

The home page is structured around three key needs: intuitive site navigation, social proof via client reviews, and timely updates through clinic news and stories.

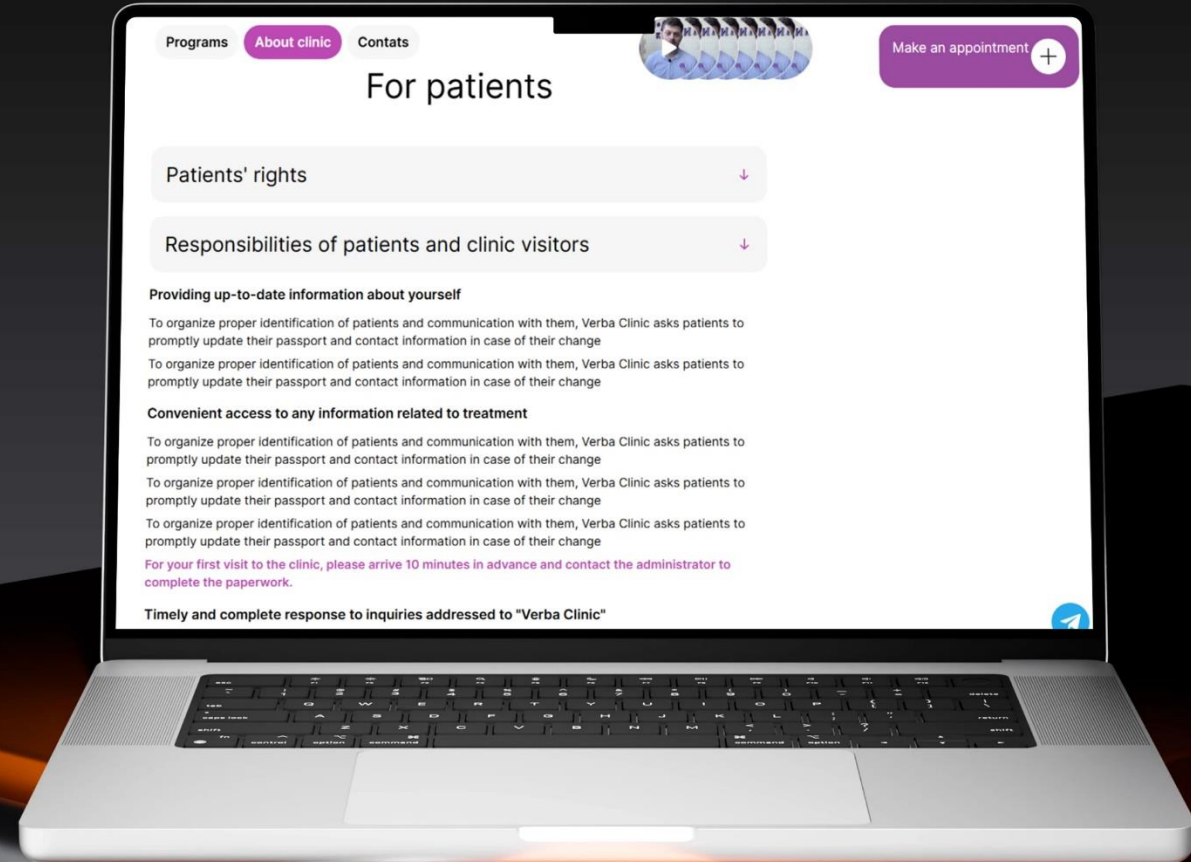

The mobile version adds sticky buttons and popups to enhance the overall experience; sticky header keeps all key links in one dropdown.

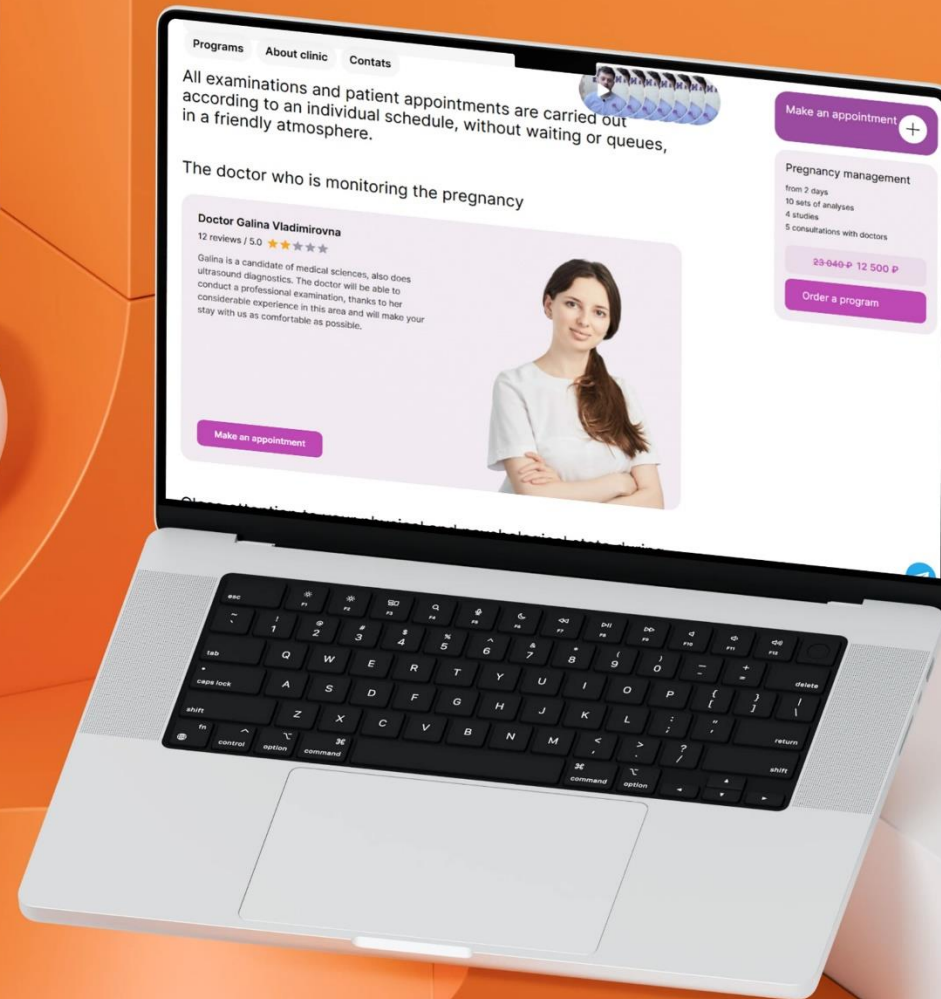

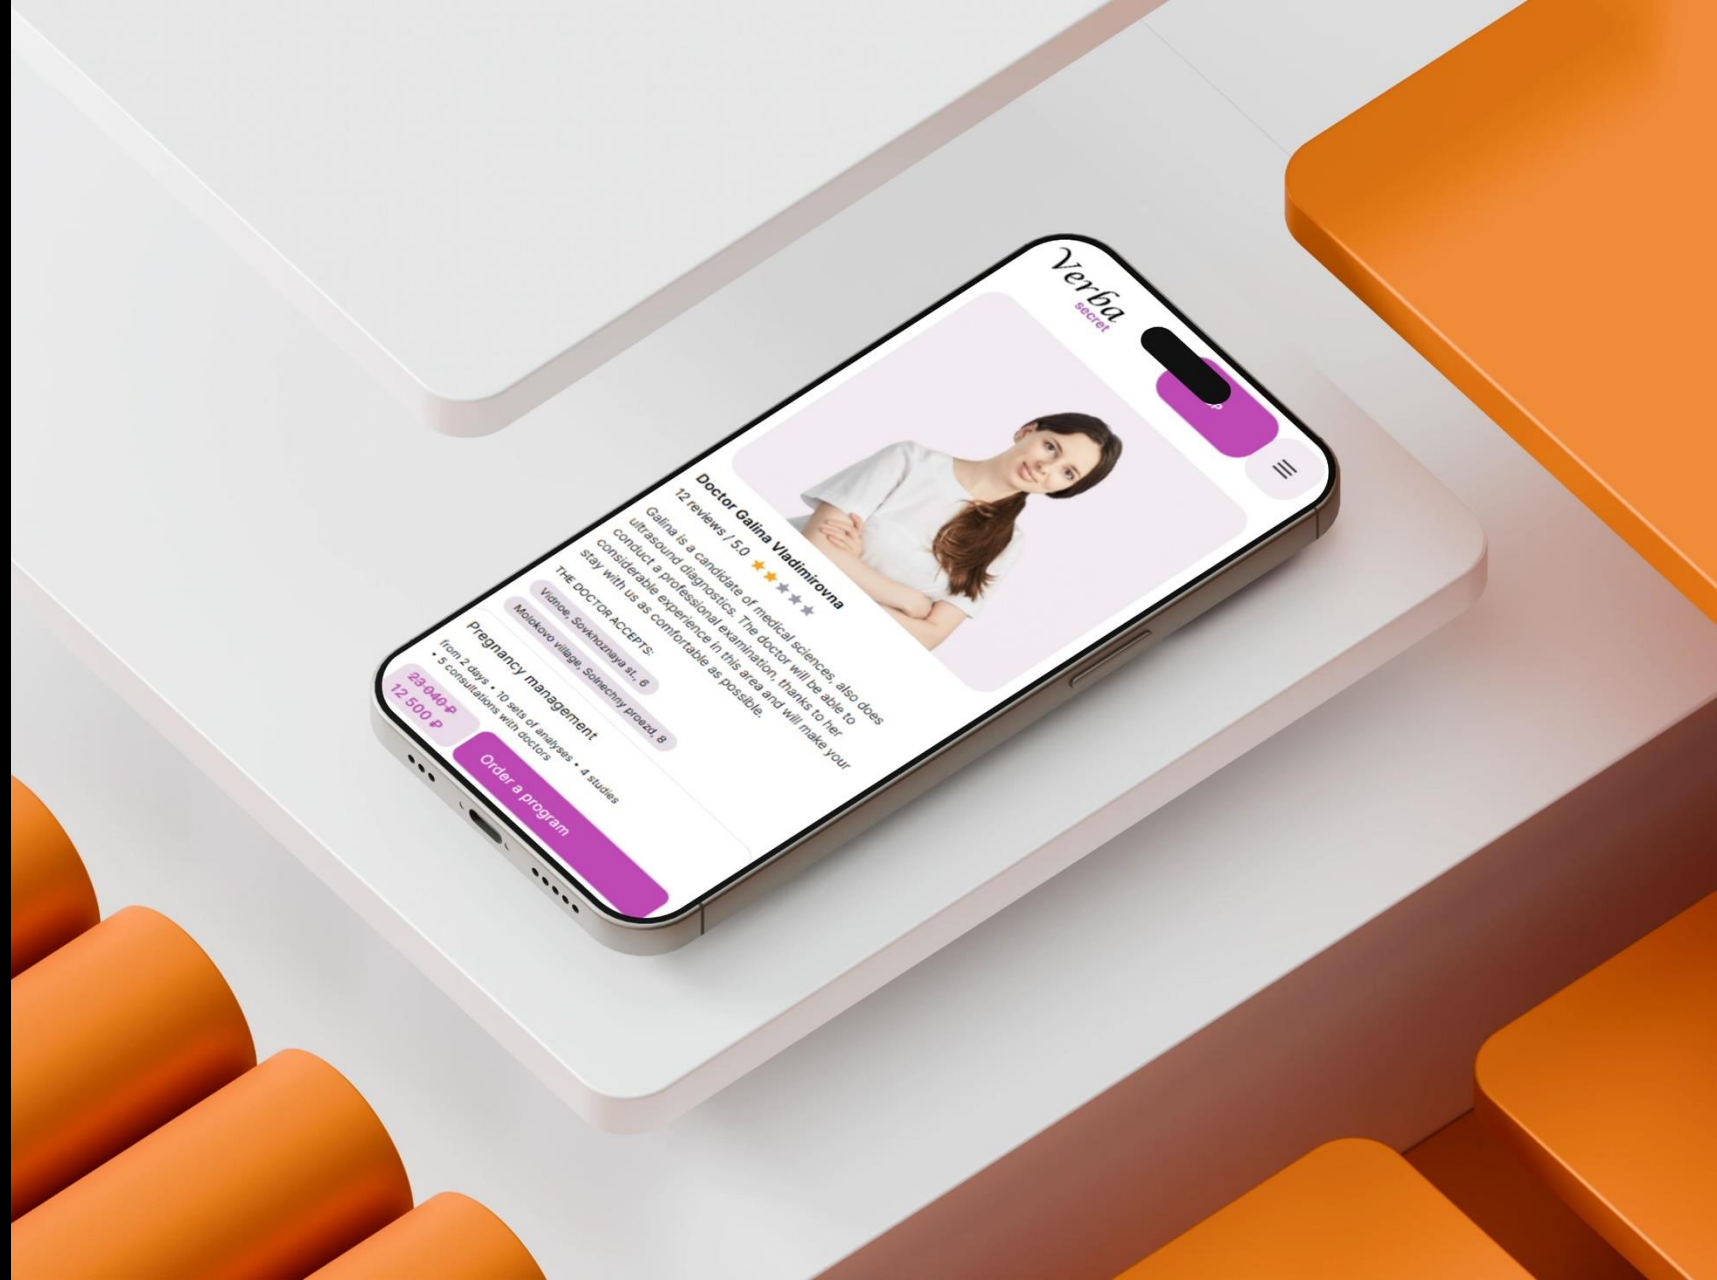

Designed for transparency, the page uses collapsible menus to simplify navigation and ensures critical legal documents are readily available for client review.

The program page serves several key purposes: to provide a clear overview of the program, its price and fees; and to highlight the responsible professional.

Optimized for small screens, the mobile view highlights the program's core value and pricing in the first scroll, and uses clear calls-to-action to connect the user directly with the program manager.

Patients can locate nearby clinics via an interactive map and use integrated modal windows to safely contact them or request appointments.
